* Meals and incidentals are paid for directly by students; other noted costs will be term-billed. The term-billed fees associated with travel go into a fund that supports studio travel, generally, as well as non-travel activities taken on by option studios without funding. This fee is separate from the cost of meals and incidentals incurred during travel. Students are responsible for obtaining the necessary visas for the trip, including all costs associated with these visa(s). Students who enroll in an internationally traveling studio should immediately proceed with getting their visas. Please note, if the studio is traveling in the first two-three weeks of the term and you need a visa to travel, it is likely that you will not be able to go on the trip. Please consult Harvard Global Support Services regarding your individual visa needs and select studios accordingly.

 “Required Academic Background” refers to the academic degree program a student is currently enrolled in at the GSD (A, LA, UD, UP), or a previously obtained professional degree in the corresponding discipline (BArch; BLA, etc.). To be eligible for a studio you must have at least one of the required academic backgrounds listed.
